

Alice Zemánková

Legal Expert

Alice Zemánková specialises in administrative law, tax law and public procurement.

In administrative law, she is primarily involved in administrative proceedings and administrative judicial proceedings.

In tax law, her focus is very broad. She has gained experience in Financial Administration where she was preparing decisions and documents in appellate proceedings. During her studies she was already involved in the administration and recovery of debts of major banking institutions and corporations in the Czech Republic.

Prior to joining our law firm in 2021, she was working in the position of an expert in the direct taxes section of the Appellate Financial Directorate.
